

As an appellate lawyer, we aren't going to depositions and hearings multiple times in a case. Everything is pretty much by telephone and email and e-filing. And so, distance really does not matter. Our lawyers are all over the state. We're able to utilize people based on their expertise or their experience regardless of where that lawyer is located physically.